

CLICK
HERE

Fashion biz

You are looking at: Home : Fashion biz

Kleine Fabriek AW11 trade fair report

Junior reports on Holland's biggest kidswear tradeshow

Posted: 17 January 2011

by Matthew Holroyd

 A busy opening day

1 of 7

Holland's biggest childrenswear trade show, Kleine Fabriek, took place this weekend (unfortunately under extremely cold and wet conditions!) in the capital city of Amsterdam, showcasing plenty of exciting autumn winter 2011 collections.

The lack of many new brands was noticeable, however there were lots of nice surprises in store. French brand Leoca Paris debuted their AW11 collection; a beautiful array of simple silhouettes including tweed coats with fur collars, smocks and wool herringbone dresses - think fashion icon Wendy Dagworthy meets a cool art teacher! Another brand of note was Dis Une Couleur; a Seventies-style jersey range which, as the title suggests, is extremely colourful. Dusty yellows, muted blues and post-box reds decorate T-shirts, baby gowns and leggings.

New to Junior?

Junior is dedicated to bringing you the finest children's fashion, shopping, family travel and more Take a tour

The UK's No. 1
Baby Show

News and Gossip Categories

+ Celebrities & interviews

+ Fashion news

+ Joe Blogs

+ Press shows & parties

+ What I found today

+ Win a goody bag

got a fashion question?
join our style clinic

Competitions & Offers